Critic's Choice Makeup Challenge Workshop

Students will present their makeup designs following the district rules with additional time added for discussion, justification, and response.

Presentation boards with pictures, charts, and research are REQUIRED for this workshop.

Since using a live model in the real time event is required, the student designer has the option of creating new presentation boards with the model(s) they will have in attendance at the festival. This is not mandatory but could help in the final event if the designer has not applied the design to a face other than their own.

At this workshop the adjudicators will choose ONE of the student's three designs and issue a challenge for the live competition to be held on Saturday evening. The challenge will consist of an additional element or possible change that the designer will incorporate in their design execution at the live event.

Real Time Event Rules

At the live competition students will execute their design on a live model, including the aforementioned challenge, in real time (1-1/2 hours). A panel of judges will critique their process using categories such as preparation, application process, organization, area cleanliness, how the model is treated, realization of design, adherence to challenge suggestions, etc.

Contestants will need:

All makeup, towels, wipes, brushes, etc. Anything needed to re-create their designs.

Makeup Model - A live model is mandatory (one from the presentation pictures is preferred but not necessary). Designs CAN NOT be executed on the designer's own face.

Presentation boards for judges to compare with re-created design.
